

Can do better

Raising boys' achievement in English

This booklet sets out the issues relating to boys' underachievement in English and suggests approaches in the classroom and across the school. It offers ways to look at the issue in school and offers ideas for both immediate and longer term action. It was an early publication on this issue but still offers a valid overview of what is happening and how to tackle it.

To access the whole document please click on the link below:

Can do better - Raising boys' achievement in English

