

Analysis of children's writing: some international comparisons (1999)

This is the report of very small scale comparative research into the features of the writing of 8 and 10 year olds in Australia, England, Singapore and USA. The common features of narrative and non-narrative writing are identified as well as differences which seemed to be distinctively related to the countries in the study.

To access the full document please click on the link below:

Analysis of children's writing: some international comparisons \(1999\)

Analysis of children's writing: some international comparisons

Comparisons of writing by 8 and 10-year-olds in Australia, England,
Singapore and USA

England

1999