

Technical accuracy in GCSE English: methodology (1999)

This report documents the methodology developed by QCA for analysing writing across all types of texts, at all ages. These instruments were used in a number of contexts, including the analysis of writing across countries, by particular groups and in different subjects. The work based on these analyses proved influential in providing evidence for raising standards in writing.

To access the full document please click on the link below:

Technical accuracy in GCSE English: methodology \(1999\)

Technical accuracy in writing in GCSE English: methodology

June 1999
