

Technical accuracy in GCSE English: research findings (1999)

This project analysed the writing of 16 year olds in their public examinations. It enabled the identification of characteristics at different grade levels and the teaching implications were drawn out. This research was the basis for the publication Improving Writing at key stages 3 and 4 (1999)

To access the full document please click on the link below:

Technical accuracy in GCSE English: research findings \(1999\)

Technical accuracy in writing in GCSE English: research findings

June 1999

---